Who can be nominated?

- An Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person, community group, organisation, service, or business*.
- The nominee must be known as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person by the local community. Both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are eligible for all award categories.
- The nominee must live, work, study, or do business in the Shoalhaven, Kiama, Shellharbour, or Wollongong Local Government Areas.
- If the nominee has won an award in one category during the last three years, they can't be nominated again for that specific category. They can be nominated for a different award category.
- Nominees for "Elder of the Year" (Aunty/Uncle) category must be recognised as an Elder within their local Aboriginal community.
- Nominees for "Young Achiever" category must be a young person between 12 and 25 years old.

*Outstanding Contribution to Reconciliation (Non-Aboriginal) is the only category which Non-Aboriginal people or groups are eligible for.

How will the winners be selected?

The assessment panel will consider the following things:

- How has the nominee been an inspiration or role model for others in the community?
- How has this nominee shown outstanding contribution to the community?
- How has this made things better for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community?

The awards

NAIDOC Elder of the Year (Aunty or Uncle)

This award celebrates the actions and accomplishments of an Elder who has made a positive impact within their local Aboriginal community and beyond. This award recognises how an Elder has contributed to their local Aboriginal community, shared their culture, and supported mob.

TWO winners will be selected for this award category

- NAIDOC Elder of the Year - Uncle
- NAIDOC Elder of the Year - Aunty

NAIDOC Community Member of the Year

This award recognises a community member who has been actively making a positive impact within their local Aboriginal community and beyond. It honours individuals who care about their community and support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander initiatives.

This award acknowledges remarkable contributions through employment, studies and volunteering – any combination of community work can be recognised for this award.

Examples of previous winners for this award category include:

- A community member who works for a local Aboriginal organisation and facilitates programs for the community which share culture and creates a sense of community and friendship
- A community member who has been working on preserving and sharing Dharawal language through a combination of PHD studies, personal interest and self-employment, to develop free resources for sharing and teaching language
- A community member who is partially retired, and spends their free time visiting local schools to teach Aboriginal art and culture, share yarning circles and encourage reconciliation.

ONE winner will be selected for this award category

NAIDOC Young Achiever of the Year

This award recognises young achievers who have shown excellence and leadership within their chosen field. They are seen as great role models for their local Aboriginal community, and go above and beyond in their community contributions.

The award aims to celebrate leadership and achievements in different areas for example sports, school and academics, creative arts, volunteering, and mentoring etc.

Up to TWO winners may be selected for this award category

NAIDOC Organisation of the Year

This award recognises Aboriginal organisations, services and business which make exceptional contributions to the local Aboriginal community and/or demonstrate excellence through business practice or social impact initiatives.

Examples of what a business or organisation can be nominated for include: employment initiatives, teaching cultural awareness programs, promoting and selling Aboriginal creative arts, facilitating Aboriginal community programs or initiatives.

Up to TWO winners may be selected for this award category:

- NAIDOC Organisation of the Year (Not-for-profit)
- NAIDOC Organisation of the Year (Business)

NAIDOC Caring for Country and Culture

This award recognises the overall contributions towards Caring for Country and Culture, and can be awarded to community members, organisations, projects, or businesses who Care for Country and Culture across the Shoalhaven and/or Illawarra regions.

Examples of Caring for Country and Culture may include:

- Traditional land management practices e.g. fire management programs.
- Biodiversity programs or projects e.g. planting native bush tucker gardens.
- Sharing knowledge between Traditional Custodians and land managers, such as NPWS, to create ways of taking care of the land led by Aboriginal people.
- Delivering training and/or education that helps the community protect or maintain Country.
- Creating jobs and education opportunities to educate the wider community on the importance of Country e.g. cadetships or ranger programs.
- Sharing and reviving Aboriginal language: helping to keep Indigenous language alive by teaching classes, workshops and making learning materials.
- Celebrating culture and opportunities to build community pride through connection to cultural identity: putting on events that showcase and celebrate Aboriginal traditions and include storytelling, dancing, painting and cultural ceremonies.
- Honouring Elders: making sure Aboriginal Elders are respected and supported and their stories are passed down to younger generations.
- Improving awareness of Aboriginal stories and history within community: offering opportunities for people to learn through activities such as yarning groups, workshops, school programs or training sessions for organisations and businesses.

ONE winner will be selected for this award category

NAIDOC Aboriginal Community Volunteer of the Year

This award recognises a volunteer within the Aboriginal community. It honours an individual who is volunteering and actively helping and making a positive impact in their local Aboriginal community.

The award seeks to specifically acknowledge remarkable unpaid work and volunteer contributions.

Examples of previous winners for this award category include:

- An Elder who volunteers their time visiting local preschools and schools to do yarning circles and Storytime, to share Aboriginal culture with the wider community.
- A community member who provided free community coaching for the local Aboriginal community, teaching and sharing their passion for running through a free drop-in community program where mob could walk, run and gather together for fitness.

ONE winner will be selected for this award category

Outstanding Contribution to Reconciliation

This award is for a person, group, organisation or business that has made an outstanding contribution towards reconciliation. This award recognises work which brings together all Australians and makes a positive and meaningful contribution towards reconciliation. This award category is open to either Aboriginal or Non-Aboriginal people.

For the purpose of this award category reconciliation is defined as “strengthening relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and non-Indigenous peoples, for the benefit of all Australians.” (Defined by Reconciliation Australia)

Examples of reconciliation actions can include:

- Supporting positive two-way relationships built on trust and respect between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Aboriginal people.
- How this person or organisation works to overcome racism in the local community.
- Supporting and contributing to Closing the Gap initiatives within the local Aboriginal community e.g. programs or support for health and wellbeing, education and employment, economic wellbeing, justice, safety, housing, land and waters, languages, digital inclusion.
- Bringing together Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people to create unity.
- Participating in truth-telling and helping to educate people to understand and accept the wrongs of the past and their impact on Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
- Creating more opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples within the local community e.g. employment, education etc.

Up to TWO winners may be selected for this award category

- Outstanding Contribution to Reconciliation (Aboriginal)
- Outstanding Contribution to Reconciliation (Non-Aboriginal)
